Inspections

The Inspection division is responsible for the life, health, safety and welfare of East Point citizens, contractors, and developers during construction. Our division ensures that construction is in accordance with all the adopted codes by the International Code Council (ICC), the Georgia Department of Community Affairs (DCA), The National Electrical Code (NEC), and the Georgia Accessibility Codes.

Construction codes establish the minimum requirements for the built environment to safeguard public health, safety, and general welfare. These standards for “structural strength, means of egress facilities, stability, sanitation, adequate light and ventilation, energy conservation” have an intended goal of “safety to life and property from fire and other hazards”. The related permit inspections provide a means of compliance verification for these standards.
